R.A.F. ESCORT FOR FRENCH PRESIDENT

Official Welcome At Dover

LONDON, Mar. 21 (Reuter)—President Lebrun and Madame Lebrun set foot on English soil early this afternoon. They left Paris in a special train which was gallantly decorated and at the station Cabinet Ministers were present to bid them farewell.

At Calais, President Lebrun inspected a guard of honour after which he boarded a channel steamer specially prepared for him.

As the vessel left the French harbour, French warships fired a salute of 21 guns.

In mid-Channel, the steamer was met by British warships and a squadron of R.A.F. planes which escorted the French President to Dover where the Duke of Gloucester welcomed the distinguished guests on behalf of the King.

Their Majesties the King and Queen received President and Madame Lebrun at Victoria Station.

RESCUED CHINESE GIRLS IN H.K.

AN APPEAL FOR ASSISTANCE

Miss Edith Picton-Turbervill, a member of the Mei Tsai Commission, in an appeal for funds to help rescued Chinese girls in Hongkong, writes from 62 Berkeley Court, N.W.1, in the "Daily Telegraph".

"With regard to the evil of the exploitation of Chinese little girls in Hongkong, a new Ordinance has been passed whereby 'transferred' girls—as well as those proved to be mul tsai—i.e., children in servitude—will be registered and protected from various forms of exploitation.

"There is a large number of rescued girls, many mere children, for whom provision must be made. A large sum, estimated at $5,000, is needed to enlarge existing schools and orphanages to receive these homeless children.

"The Government will add a pound to every pound given voluntarily. The Bishop of Hongkong, who is working in co-operation with the Government and the Salvation Army, begs me to raise funds in England.

"A committee has been formed to help in this appeal. Among the members are the Dowager Lady Nuburnholme, Mr. E. D. C. Wolfe (late Inspector-General of Police in Hongkong), Prof. Noel Hall, and Mrs. Arthur Legge."

BERLIN, Mar. 21 (Reuter)—The belief is growing in political circles here that the return of Memel to Germany to all intents and purposes was settled during an interview between Herr von Ribbentrop, German Foreign Minister, and the Lithuanian Foreign Minister, yesterday.

The visit was described as a courtesy call but it lasted for three quarters of an hour.

Field-Marshal Goering left for Italy this morning to continue his interrupted holiday. It was reported yesterday that it was thought that Field-Marshal Goering will have an early meeting with Signor Mussolini.

FIGHTING RESUMED IN N. KIANGSI

JAPANESE LANDING REPULSED

WANCHIAFOW, KIANGSI, Mar. 21 (Central)—Under a protective barrage about 400 Japanese troops attempted a landing at Yehchiachow on the west shore of Poyang Lake yesterday morning. After suffering many casualties from Chinese fire, they returned to their warships anchored in the lake.

Over ten Japanese warships and 40 steam launches and boats are concentrated in the lake off Wuchang, strategic town on the west shore.

Heavy fighting has been in progress on the north bank of the Siu River in north Kiangsi during the last few days. Shelling heavily across the River, the Japanese troops made several attempts to effect a crossing.

On Sunday night hundreds of shells were fired on Kwanyingko and Kaotzeling, two villages. After the terrific bombardment, between 400 and 500 Japanese troops assaulted the Chinese positions. A part of them forced a crossing.

Driver Who Decamped After Crash

CORONER'S INQUEST ON GIRL VICTIM

According to witnesses at an inquiry held in the Kowloon Court yesterday, a four-year-old girl, Chan Waa-cheung, who died in a motor accident in Chatham Road more than a month ago, was a victim of dangerous driving by a man who had no legal authority to drive in that he did not possess a driver's licence.

They affirmed also that the man, who appeared to have escaped injury, extricated himself from the wreckage, and walked away in the direction of Kowloon City. Since then, he has not been found.

Mr. E. Himsforth sat as Coroner, and the jury, Mr. L. A. R. Remedios, (foreman), Mr. G. P. Fry and Mr. G. A. Lee, were instructed by the Coroner that evidence taken at the inquiry suggested the driver, Chan Eoi, a coolie-watchman employed by the United Delivery Co., did not have a driving licence, and that he had probably driven in excess of the speed limit, the father of the deceased child claiming he had seen the speedometer registering more than 30 miles an hour.

The jury, however, returned a verdict of "death by misadventure."

Crown Princess Martha of Norway, sister of the late Queen Astrid of Belgium, who together with her husband, Crown Prince Olav, will be present at the inauguration of the Norwegian section at the New York World's Fair, after which the Crown Prince and Princess will make a tour of the United States.

ALL QUIET ON EASTERN FRONTIER

BUDAPEST, Mar. 21 (Reuter)—Official circles deny reports of German demands asking for passage for German troops through Hungarian territory.

Relations between Hungary and Rumania are not too cordial and both sides have taken precautions on the frontier but further developments depend on the general international situation.

It is quite conceivable that Germany might encourage Hungary's aims in Transylvania but at present all is quiet on the eastern frontier.

TERRIBLE INDICTMENT OF H.K. CONDITIONS

Separate Home Needed For Child Prostitutes

Salvation Army Home Hold Annual Meeting

"Economic causes the world over drive women and girls into prostitution, but that they should drive children of from 12 years upwards into it, is a terrible indictment of conditions in Hongkong. We are faced with the urgent need of a separate Home for these child prostitutes, a Home suitably equipped where the girls who are being rescued from the life of prostitution can be helped back to a normal life. The girls need helping physically, morally and spiritually and they also need to learn some means by which they can earn a living other than by prostitution."

This searching statement was made by Major Dorothy Brasher in the course of her report which she read at the annual meeting of the Salvation Army Home for Women and Girls over which The Hon. Sir Henry E. Pollock presided.

His Excellency the Governor and Lady Northcote, attended by Capt. S. H. Batty-Smith, attended and among others present were the Hon. Mr. W. J. Carr (Secretary for Chinese Affairs) and Mrs. Carr, the Hon. Mr. C. G. Perdue (Acting Commissioner of Police) and Mrs. Perdue, Mr. Q. A. A. Macfadyen, Mr. E. Himsforth, Mr. R. Edwards, Brigadier W. Darby and many others.

WORK IN CANTON

Brigadier W. Darby, Director of the Canton branch of the Salvation Army Home, gave a vivid description of the work done by officers in Canton during the troubled times. It was of interest to note that during last year the Home supplied to the refugees 880,000 meals, for adults, 20,000 meals for children, 400 tins of milk and attended 400 clinic cases.

SOVIET PREPARED TO JOIN CONFERENCE PROVIDED POWERS MEAN REAL BUSINESS

SHANGHAI STABBING, SHOOTING

SHANGHAI, Mar. 21 (Reuter)—A Japanese, named Kawai, an employee in a silk shop in Bubbling Well Road, opposite the Race Course, in the heart of the International Settlement, was stabbed in the back this morning. The victim was only slightly injured and called for an ambulance himself and was taken to hospital.

Two Chinese entered the shop and asked to see some silk. While one examined the material the other stabbed Kawai in the back. The attackers calmly walked out of the shop without arousing the suspicion of a policeman who was only a few yards away.

SHOT DEAD

A Chinese was shot dead by a lone gunman this morning in a Chinese hotel in the International Settlement. The victim was identified as Wang Chi-sung and was alleged to be working for the Japanese. The gunman calmly entered the room shot the man and then escaped.

Wong Chi-sung is believed to be an official of the so-called Waterways Tax Bureau of the Reformed Government of Nanking.

The assassination took place before the terrified gaze of a friend who was in the room at the same time. The gunman entered called the victim by name and then opened fire.

Wong was said to be the go-between for Japanese and cargo vessels requiring permits to take goods into Japanese-controlled territory.

BRITISH TRADE MISSION WILL GO TO RUMANIA

LONDON, March 21 (Reuter)—When it was announced in the House of Commons that Britain was sending a trade mission to Rumania, Mr. Oliver Stanley, President of the Board of Trade, was asked, "Is it worthwhile sending a mission in face of the German demands in Rumania?"

Mr. Stanley replied: "That is one of the best arguments for sending it."

Treatment Of Japanese In Singapore

BRITISH REPLY TO PROTEST

LONDON, Mar. 21 (Reuter)—The British Government has replied to the Japanese protest of January 25 regarding the treatment of Japanese nationals in Singapore. The answer maintained, it is understood, that all raids on Japanese establishments complained of were carried out in compliance with the law.

The police action, it further pointed out, showed the intention existed among Japanese nationals to undertake action prejudicial to the Colony and calculated to bring about a breach of the peace.

Japanese nationals in Singapore, the Note emphasizes, are not subject to restrictions beyond those in force against all other nationals.

The Note invited comparison between defence measures taken in connection with the Singapore base and measures taken by the Japanese in their own fortified zone. It estimated that the position in Singapore compares favourably with that of Japan. A number of examples of "Japanese police surveillance and spy mania" are quoted.

The British Government, it is added, hope that Japanese nationals will take account of their obligation as residents in British territory and thus obviate the need for any further measures on the part of the authorities.

Presentation Of Italy's Claims Against France Will Be Next Major Development

'London Negotiating With European Capitals: Joint Declaration Being Drawn Up

LONDON, MAR. 21 (REUTER)—THE DIPLOMATIC CORRESPONDENT OF THE "DAILY TELEGRAPH" SAYS THAT IT IS FEARED IN LONDON: that the situation may without warning become too urgent for time for a conference of Powers such as suggested by the Soviet.

The British and French view apparently is that a clear declaration, signed by the principal Powers concerned, and an open adherence to other States, would be the most practical first step towards the building up of a new system of security based on mutual support of Europe.

The correspondent gathers that the Soviet is prepared to join in the effort provided it is satisfied that the Powers really mean business, and adds that the Soviet would not necessarily confine the implications of such a declaration to Eastern Europe.

The writer goes on to say that the impression was current in diplomatic circles yesterday that circumstances dictate a pause in German progress eastward and it is thought probable that the next immediate German move may be against Lithuania, where a coup to annex Memel is believed to be imminent.

Apparently Lithuania is not now prepared to offer effective resistance, but it is understood that Poland will take a serious view should the German ambition extend into territory of Lithuania proper.

It is expected, however, that the next major development will come with the presentation of Italian claims against France.

COLLECTIVE RESISTANCE

LONDON, Mar. 21 (Reuter)—The rapid drawing up of a joint declaration by Britain, France, Soviet Union and other Powers, which will make clear that any further acts of aggression will meet with collective resistance, is now being negotiated between London and the other European capitals, says Reuter's diplomatic correspondent.

The initiative in this move has been taken by Britain and France and it is felt that such a step will be the quickest and most efficacious way for preparing in advance against the dangers of any new sudden aggressive move.

This follows quickly upon the Soviet suggestion that interested democratic Powers should at once hold a conference to define their attitude in view of the new situation. A declaration, on the lines mentioned, would be preferable to a conference at present since it would take far less time to negotiate such an agreement than to arrange a conference.

The Russian attitude to the British plan appears to be not unfavourable but the Soviet definitely desire to satisfy themselves that Britain and France are really prepared to act should the occasion arise.

It is possible, writes the correspondent, that Russia, as a condition to adhering to the declaration, might stipulate that it be followed by a conference along the lines suggested by Moscow.

MINISTERS' ENVOYS BUSY
LONDON, Mar. 21 (Reuter)—The British Minister in Rumania saw King Carol yesterday while the British Minister in Greece saw the Prime Minister.

In the United States, the British Ambassador, Sir Ronald Lindsay, called on Mr. Sumner Welles, and in London, the American Ambassador, Mr. Joseph Kennedy, called on the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Sir John Simon, at No. 11 Downing Street.

In Paris, M. Bonnet, Foreign Minister, received the United States and Soviet Ministers and the British Charge D'Affaires.

NEGOTIATIONS SUSPENDED

PARIS, Mar. 21 (Reuter)—French economic negotiations with Germany have been suspended and the negotiators have returned to Paris.

TRADE PACT CANCELLED

LONDON, Mar. 21 (Reuter)—The trade pact with Czechoslovakia, which was signed recently and which was to have come into force on April 1 has been cancelled. After that date Czech exports are expected to be barred from entering Britain.

INTERNATIONAL TIN COMMITTEE

LONDON, Mar. 21 (Reuter)—The International Tin Committee at to-morrow's meeting will be facing one of the most difficult situations ever encountered. Buffer stock will be reached permitted, the maximum is 15,000 tons by April 30 after which the 10 per cent. quota set aside for buffer purposes becomes free.

The possibility of this 10 per cent. being added to the existing free market quota of 35 per cent. seems remote as the recent behaviour of the market suggests such a large increase in supply that it might force down the prices below the pool's operating limits. Once this has happened the knowledge of the existence of 15,000 tons buffer stock hanging over the market will probably act as a severe break to any subsequent tendency to recover.

FRENCH MOBILIZATION SECRECY

PARIS, Mar. 21 (Reuter)—First decrees under the special powers granted to the French Government include secrecy regarding mobilization, increase in personnel of the defence forces and measures to be taken to prohibit the publication of information concerning national defence.

GEORGE CHOA GIVES S. A. RUMJAHN GOOD FIGHT IN OPEN SINGLES

Experience Defeats The Better Equipment Of Youth

WINNER'S RETRIEVING POWERS AMAZING

(By "TAC")

S. A. Rumjahn beat G. Choa 7-5, 6-4 in the second round of the Colony Open tennis singles championships.

LEAVING ASIDE THE TSUI BROTHERS, AND PERHAPS H. D. RUMJAHN, IF GEORGE CHOA, YOUTHFUL RISING STAR OF THE HONGKONG TENNIS WORLD, had been meeting any player other than Sirdar Rumjahn at the Hongkong Cricket Club ground yesterday, the probabilities are he would have come through a victor instead of an honourable vanquished.

Better equipped all round, with a free, easy style, and forceful, aggressive strokes, Choa was the winner's superior in most departments of the game and, from the point of view of technique and stroke play, one left the ground wondering how the result had been arrived at.

RESULTS

SINGLES
S. A. Rumjahn beat George Choa 7-5, 6-4.
Wong Shu-wing beat W. K. Ma 6-2, 6-3.
H. D. Rumjahn beat F. H. Kwok 7-5, 6-2.

But Rumjahn possessed three assets the importance of which cannot be over-estimated. Firstly, there was his vast experience, secondly, though he himself did not appear to be in the pink of condition, he was much fitter than his opponent, despite the handicap which he conceded in years. And last, but most important of all, his famous retrieving powers were never better demonstrated than in this game.

On at least half a dozen occasions Choa put over a seeming winner to one side of the court when Rumjahn was off balance on the other, and began turning away for the next stroke—only to see the ball returned, and to be so surprised that he could make no attempt to put it back himself, though usually the returns were easy enough to have been dealt with normally.

AMAZING AGILITY

It was, in the last analysis, this amazing agility around the court—amazing for a man in the middle thirties, with over 15 years in the tournament to look back upon—this knack of turning a sure loser into a winner, that won for Rumjahn the day by straight sets.

The game for the most part resolved itself into a baseline duel. Choa made occasional sorties to the net from almost all of which he emerged with the point gained. In this respect I cannot help feeling that he was guilty of bad tactics in not going up much more often. It is a fact that, though the loser, he was dictating terms most of the way and I think he would have been more successful in so doing if he had persistently entrenched himself in the forecourt, whence Rumjahn was clearly finding it difficult to shift him.

THE PLAY

Regarding the play itself, as the scores indicate, it was a very close affair. Choa took first service, and lost the game but thereafter he was always in the lead till the tenth game, at which point Rumjahn levelled scores for the second time before going out at 7-5.

Actually Choa led 4-1, Rumjahn playing only as well as he was allowed to in these early games, but the latter held his service in the sixth game, broke through his opponent's in the seventh and held his own again in the eighth to stage a timely recovery.

Early in the second set Choa showed signs of "bellows to mend"—I understand he is handicapped by a none too strong stomach—and there was a short stoppage. He was then leading 2-1 and, on resumption, there was a terrific struggle for the fourth game. Five deuces were called before Rumjahn finally held his delivery to make the tally two-all. The game was by no means over, however, and Choa again led, 3-2 and 4-3. The standard of play now was the best in the match, for Choa was showing no signs of cracking and yet Rumjahn was beginning slowly to establish an ascendancy.

The ex-champion won the eighth game on service to level up again and then came the first breakthrough in the vital ninth game and, with it, the end, though Choa managed to save one match point.

F. KWOK MISSES OPPORTUNITY

Had Two Set Points On H. D. Rumjahn

Frank Kwok had a fine chance of winning the first set of his third round match with H. D. Rumjahn but lost it and with it, the match at straight sets by scores of 7-5, 6-2.

He was leading 5-4 and 40-15 but Rumjahn, as ever, a fighter, saved the two set points and took the next two games. The second set, though not a walk-over, was something of an anti-climax. Rumjahn played his usual steady all-round game, giving little away and mixing a number of brilliant shots amongst his consistently good strokes. Kwok was doing most of the dictating in the early stages, his forehand drive presenting a problem to the winner whenever it got over, but he never managed to establish a complete ascendancy, though it did look as if he would take the first set.

Rumjahn now meets J. W. Leonard in the fourth round for the right to enter the semi-finals and, on this form, should get in with something to spare. There he will meet Tsui Wai-pui, the champion, provided, of course, that the latter does beat Wong Shu-wing.

TENNIS TIES ALTERED

RADIO BUILT ON COMMON PIN

Albert L. Marquess, San Diego's most amazing radio fan, has just completed assembling another radio—this one on a common pin. Another of his sets is in the end of a lead pencil where an eraser is generally embedded still another is constructed in a novelty banjo about two inches long.

The radios are, of course, crystal sets. Marquess mounts the little crystal detectors for rectifying the radio currents upon the smallest possible objects, then attaches tiny connections for earphones, ground and aerial, omitting tuning coils.

Marquess began the hobby several years ago while living in Arizona. Incidentally, his reception from two local stations and two near-by stations in Mexico in quite all right, thank you.

ROYAL AIR FORCE

NEW HOSPITALS

Two new hospitals for the R.A.F. at home are to be erected at a cost of between £210,000 and £230,000 each, one at Ely and the other at Wroughton, because of additional requirements arising from the expansion of the Force.

There are at present only two R.A.F. general hospitals at home, one at Halton, with about 584 beds, and the other at Cranwell, with 255. A small officers' hospital is also maintained at Uxbridge.

Halton Hospital is being considerably enlarged at an estimated cost of £200,000. Where it is not practicable to afford treatment in Air Force hospitals, naval and military hospitals are utilized wherever possible, and in the coming year the payments to outside hospitals will increase from £64,000 to £200,000.

This extra cost will be more than recovered, however, by an increase from £34,500 to £200,000 in the receipts expected for the treatment of Army personnel in one of the R.A.F. hospitals abroad.

Of these there are three: at Habbaniya, Iraq, with 151 beds; Sarafand, Palestine, with 225; and Steamer Point, Aden, with 65.

DISPOSITION OF CHINESE TROOPS IN PROVINCES

SHANGHAI, Mar. 20 (Int'l).—Reports reaching here to-day indicate the following disposition of Chinese troops in Hupei, Hunan and Kiangsi provinces:

The area south of a line connecting Shiangyang, northern Hupei, and a point at the western end of the province is called the Fifth War District and is guarded by approximately 30 divisions under the command of General Li Tsung-jen.

About five divisions of Gen. Yu Hsueh-chung's and Gen. Miao Lei's armies are said to be remaining in the Taphshan mountain range between Yingshan and points near Shiangcheng in eastern Hunan province. Due to lack of war materials, they are attempting to move to a line linking Macheng and Lotien. According to a report, Gen. Yu's army is trying to move to the Shantung and Kiangsu districts by the recent order from Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek.

The Kioshan-Nanyang area in Hunan province is defended by six divisions of troops of Gen. Sun Lien-chung and Gen. Chen Ko armies under the command of Gen. Wei Li-huang of the First War District.

On the Yangtze River basin between Ichang, western Hupei and points near Yoyang, northern Hunan, about 10 divisions of troops of the Szechuen and the former north-eastern armies have been arranged. The coast of Lake Tungting is guarded by some five divisions. A student army of approximately 50,000 strong is said to have mounted guard on the area recently.

NINTH WAR DISTRICT

Hunan province is called the Ninth War District, and is most heavily defended by more than 60 divisions under the command of Gen. Hsueh Yueh. The hilly zone between the zone on the left bank of the Hsin Tsiangho and a point north of Changsha is defended by Gen. Tang En-po. Strong fortifications are said to have been constructed there.

The Chinese appear to have been attaching considerable importance for the defence of the area around Nanchang, capital of Kiangsi province. Not less than 20 divisions of troops have been concentrated there and have been strengthening the defence works under the command of Gen. Lo Cho-ying.

"DISGRACED HIS COLLEGE"

Undergraduate Stole Wallet

How an Oxford undergraduate's extravagant tastes caused him to steal was related at Oxford recently when Sidney Walthew, 20, of Oriel College, was bound over for stealing a wallet belonging to another undergraduate from the Freshmen's dressing-room at the University running ground. He pleaded guilty.

Det. Cook said he kept observation on the dressing-room following complaints by the president and secretary of the University Athletic Club. On the afternoon of Jan. 30 he saw Walthew enter.

After partly undressing, Walthew "went through" all the clothing on the pegs, he said. Walthew went away, but returned and searched the clothing again.

He took a wallet from one jacket and told the detective that it was his. Later he said he had taken it in mistake for his own, as he wanted to pay his track fees. There was no money in his own wallet.

The Chief Constable, C. R. Fox, said that Walthew was born in America and came to England with his parents when very young.

FATHER'S STRUGGLE

Mr. R. B. Cole, defending, said Walthew left the City of Oxford School with exhibitions, scholarships and grants amounting to £185 a year, which his father made up to £225 a year. His father, a commercial traveller, had had to struggle hard to keep his boy at the University.

Walthew was a distinguished athlete, and last year swam for Oxford against Cambridge. He started to develop extravagant tastes, however, and got into debt by living above income.

"No one can exaggerate the punishment he has already suffered—the punishment of remorse," added Mr. Cole. "He has disgraced his father, his school, his college and his University."

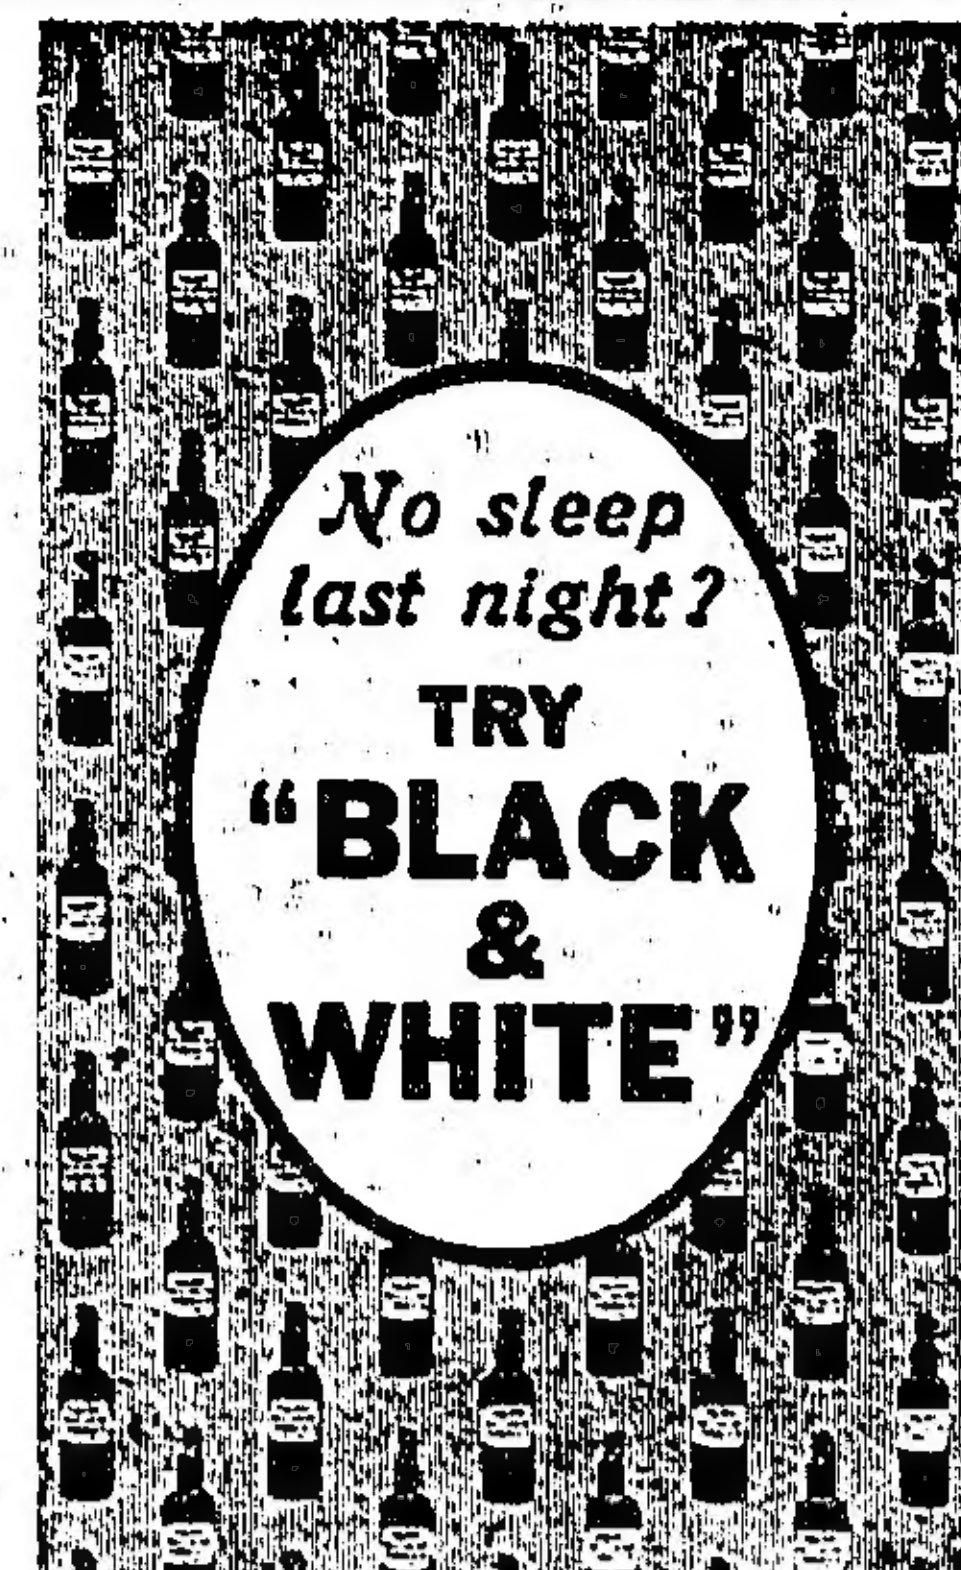

REAL DIAMOND PARADISE

While it is no place for diamond-loving ladies, yet the famous Foraminifera diamond fields in Tshikapa, Belgian Congo, would thrill any woman because diamonds can be picked up at leisure along the creek bottom, according to George E. Kirk, mining engineer.

Kirk, who is in Denver visiting relatives, "is one of the supervisors for a Belgian diamond firm, in the famous diamond mines where 50,000 native black people are employed and supervised by 150 white men."

Kirk told friends that he supervised mining of one million karats of diamonds last year "but we don't actually mine the diamonds, we excavate and then pick them up along the creek bottoms," he said.

Kirk is a native of Denver and attended Utah University. He said the climate in the Congo is ideal, ranging from 90 degrees in the daytime to 58 degrees at night the year around. Malaria has been "pretty well controlled" down there but sleeping sickness takes a great death toll, he revealed. The source of the fabulous mine has never been discovered, Kirk said.

ROLE OF INDIAN WOMEN IN POLITICAL LIFE

MADRAS.—Mrs. Mona Hensman delivered a lecture on "The Place of Women in Politics" at the Pachayappa's College, under the auspices of the College Union.

Mrs. Hensman said that, unlike the women of western nations, who had to fight their enfranchisement, the women of India had a different story to tell in that they were helped by men and were welcomed into politics. Such of them as would like to enter politics, she said, should be prepared to face a certain amount of opposition and should realize that if they joined any party and signed a pledge, they bound themselves to certain routine thought and action. However, whatever their politics might be, they had to work for social legislation aiming at the welfare of women and improving their position and status in society.

A GREAT PART

In these days, when they all looked forward to internationalism, Mrs. Hensman added, women had a great part to play in politics. Although each country had to develop its national characteristics and culture, they had to bring all nations together. There was the movement for disarmament and peace. To achieve success in that, women in politics and out of it had to work, realizing that a war would mean the loss of their husband, sons or brothers.

The lecturer expressed the hope that women would not merely content themselves with social reform or with the education and reform of women alone, neglecting the "other half". In politics, it was necessary that they should bring in the ideals of "mother craft or mother control".

The international dancers "Frances and Fred" who will entertain Gloucester Hotel diners and guests during the coming month with their unusual routines of Ballroom Dances.

UNUSUAL BALLROOM ENTERTAINMENT

Frances and Fred At Gloucester

The international dance team, Frances and Fred, are now entertaining dinner guests in the Roof Garden of the Gloucester Hotel.

Evidently the management of the hotel have reserved these outstanding artists for the closing of the winter entertainment season ending the last day of April.

Reservations for dinner and dancing are breaking records and is attributed to the dancers who are on tour in the Orient for the first time.

Frances and Fred, formerly on the boards at the Gaiety Theatre, Colombo, have tripped their delicate, fantastic dance steps through Europe, South and North America.

A DEPARTURE

The style of dancing they are presenting for the Hongkong public's amusement is a departure from the usual exhibition of ballroom steps and poses. To define their particular style is difficult, as it originated from their own heads and feet. It could be interpreted as graceful acrobatic ballroom dancing.

During the ten minutes of their performance every hour after 10 p.m. each evening, except Sunday, these two accomplished entertainers float, glide and whirl about the floor. The soft musical accompaniment is the only echo to their graceful, esthetic dance numbers.

Frances and Fred present the unusual in ballroom entertainment with a bountiful amount of charm for the Colony's pleasure loving patrons.

Round About

The four legged mutts at the Dog Show howled and barked their approval or disapproval of the activities throughout the day. They gossiped and conversed in their own language, passing compliments or slurs on the various other members in the show.

The judging of the beauties was completed, prizes distributed and all the pups returned to their comfortable firesides.

On the following day one little ball of fluff, recognized as a dog, brooded over the outcome of the selections. He was not a prize winner, why? His pride and feelings were hurt, and so were those of his master.

When human friends sympathized on the shameful course of the past events, his master responded, "I'm not angry, the pup is the one that is mad!"

A howl from the fluffy ball on the end of the leash seconded the remark.

A whist drive will be held at Kowloon Union Church Hall on Thursday, March 30, from 8.45 p.m. Tickets will be at 50 cents.

FLINT CURED STONE-AGE MAN'S HEADACHE

A stone-age man, whose skull has been found on Critchell Down, Dorset, had undergone a trepanning operation carried out with the flint instruments of his age.

A circular piece of bone had been cut out of the skull and replaced. And the patient lived.

The skull was found by Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Piggott, during their excavations on the down. They demonstrated their find and the detective work to men and women archaeologists in Dorset.

Enlarged pictures of the skull showed the details of the operations, and revealed by scratches made by the knife where the surgeon began his task.

A skull that had been trepanned in 1880 is to be seen at the Royal College of Surgeons. Mr. Piggott said: "But

ENGAGEMENT RENEWED

Navyman To Wed At Hongkong

Notice has been given at a London register office of the forthcoming marriage at Hongkong Cathedral of Capt. Francis James Wylie, R. N., H. M. S. Tamar, and Miss Pamela Dorothy Barrow, of Fortman Mansions, Marylebone Road, London.

Capt. Wylie is a widower, 42 years of age, and Miss Barrow is 20 years his junior.

Their engagement was announced in September 1937, but it was stated towards the end of the following February that the marriage would not take place.

At that time the prospective bridegroom was a commander in the Navy. He is the youngest son of the late Mr. J. O. Wylie, M. C. He was promoted to captain in June 1938 for staff duty in China.

Miss Barrow is the elder daughter of Paymaster Captain and Mrs. T. L. Barrow, Buriton, Parkstone Avenue, Southsea.

FORTHCOMING MARRIAGES

The following forthcoming marriages are announced:—

Mr. Frank Myles Burns, private in the 2nd Battalion, Royal Scots, and Miss Chan Mok-poi, of No. 101 Gloucester Road, first floor.

Mr. Edward Owen Murphy, accountant, of the Peninsula Hotel, and Miss Elsie Alice Balchin, of Chatham Apartments.

Mr. John Rudolph Eugene Raschle, merchant, residing at the Gloucester Hotel, and Miss Edith Ray, of No. 14 Jordan Road, Kowloon.

this Stone Age operation was a neater, more efficient job."

LETTING OUT THE DEVIL

Why was the operation carried out? There the records are silent. Probably the man had a headache that wouldn't be cured. So he sat down and howled.

"His people," said Mr. Piggott, "thought the only thing to do was to let out the devil, so they made a hole in his head."

So much is theory. He may have been a warrior wounded in a tribal war, a lover who lost the battle for a mate.

But civilisation marches on. We have found more certain means of destruction. Critchell Down, that held so long the secret of the Stone Age patient, has now been taken over by the R.A.F. as a bombing range.

"America - Some Impressions"

GRANDIOSE CONCEPTION OF EDUCATION

Prof. Forster's Interesting Address To Rotarians

"THERE IS NO DOUBT THAT THE ENTHUSIASM FOR THE EXPANSION OF EDUCATIONAL WORK IN CHINA HAS BEEN DERIVED FROM THE UNITED STATES, where education is a really serious matter. No other nation in the world has the grandiose conception of education as a force for good in public life that one finds in the States. It is something new in civilisation."

This striking tribute to one aspect of American life was paid by Professor L. Forster, M.A., Professor of Education in the University of Hongkong, in the course of an instructive and interesting talk on "America—Some Impressions" which he gave to the Rotary Club at its weekly luncheon at the Hongkong Hotel yesterday.

Mr. L. C. F. Bellamy presided, and welcomed the following visiting Rotarians—District Governor Dr. James M. Henry (Canton), S. K. Mondol (Assam), J. M. Hansen (Nanking), G. J. McCarthy (Shanghai), A. Hoffman (Minneapolis), J. C. Thomson (Nanking), H. M. Van Der Schaak (Canton), Dr. C. T. Wang (Shanghai), N. V. Halward (Canton), Paul Deitz (Shanghai), R. A. Ward (Chengtu), and J. L. Kneebone (Hamilton, Victoria, Australia).

Guests were Messrs. Pinzen Cheng, R. T. Down and L. Stark (Shanghai), R. M. Mace (Bangkok), Group-Captain H. Brown and H. C. Macnamara (Hongkong), and J. W. Clague.

On behalf of the Rotary Club of Chengtu, Mr. Ward presented the Chairman with their banner.

THE NEW DEAL

Professor Forster said in part: "I understand that you have already heard about America from Rotarian Walker, but it is unlikely that we both saw that vast and varied country from the same angle, so I am not likely to make the same observations. He, in any case, got off the rail at Hollywood, and stayed off for six weeks (laughter), and no doubt told you about the stars which he carefully observed, rather than about the firmament."

America is in the throes of a New Deal. That is the all-absorbing topic. It is the subject of jests, the object of ridicule, and in the opinion of financiers and industrialists, the cause of depression and the prelude of disaster. There is no restraint in the use of language when opponents are describing the situation. One very prominent American educationist, for example, stated that there was no doubt that the President's mental condition was such that he would be persuaded or compelled to resign his position within a year, and entrust the office to the vice-president who would later be adopted as the democratic candidate for the presidency. Another one said that American politics were literally honeycombed with honesty. Yet on the surface there is no evidence of impending doom.

In a fairly extensive tour, I never met a single beggar, nor an emaciated, half-starved human being—black or white—not a single person in rags and tatters, no one barefooted. On the contrary, I found the physique of the average youth extremely good, and most of the children in the poorer districts of New York, far better dressed and more wholesome than I have seen in other countries.

There was a story passing round in New York, when I was there, of a bricklayer who applied for a job on a building in one of the main streets, and was engaged. When he looked round, however, he said there was no place to park his car, and told the foreman of his difficulty. The foreman thereupon ordered him to go away, as a bricklayer he said, without a chauffeur was no use on that job. (Loud laughter).

"PANEM ET CIRCENSES" POLICY

Under this New Deal, many citizens resent the encroachment of the state, and the multiplication of social services, not because there is any niggardliness with regard to national help, but because they dread the devaluation of the people this "panem et circenses" policy. The United States was made great, not by feudalism nor by any sort of benevolence and indulgence for the faint-hearted, but by a sturdy individualism which ploughed the land with the rifle near at hand, ready in every emergency.

Americans know perfectly well that there is enough wealth to go round, but they do not believe that anyone should possess any part of that wealth without first of all proving himself worthy of it. They cordially despise the docile recipient, while they respect the vigorous go-getter who is self-reliant, creative and possessed of initiative. The nation can carry many passengers, in fact it can carry millions, but its citizens feel that it is not desirable that it should do so.

CAPTAIN EDEN'S SPEECH

America prefers the minor evils that accompany the exercise of freedom in thought and speech.

HONGKONG, MARCH 22, 1939

HITLER'S GREED
FOR POWER

ONE IS COMPELLED to take a serious, if not gloomy, view of the situation in Europe towards which the eyes of an 'indignant world' are turned. Anxiety persists as to whether the world is to be plunged into the throes of another war, a war which undoubtedly will be far more disastrous than that of 1914-1918.

HITLER, in spite of his protestations that there will be no more wars with Great Britain and that his territorial claims have been fulfilled, has deliberately gone back on his word and has wantonly shattered all efforts at appeasement. The Munich Agreement has proved of benefit to nobody excepting the German leader, whose hopes eventually to make his country the master of the world are becoming more and more apparent. The "Fuehrer" is playing a desperate and a dangerous game: he realizes that he has, if his bluff succeeds, everything to succeed, and nothing to lose if it fails. His greed for power has caused him to break all solemn pledges which he had previously given, but such cannot but react in a manner that he and the people of the Reich will regret. Might is not right, and Germany is not as mighty as Hitler would have the world believe. It is time that the German Chancellor realized this instead of seeking trouble and constantly challenging all and sundry alike.

THE POSSIBILITY of a German threat to Rumania cannot be lightly dismissed nor can Hitler and his associates disclaim that they are looking for new fields to conquer as this is apparent to all. Whether it is the intention of the Reich to turn its eyes towards the east or to the west, we shall not attempt to predict but the Democratic Powers will not be taken unawares by any further Hitlerite coup. They have allowed themselves to be bluffed in the past and it is not their intention to allow themselves to be bluffed any more. They are now in favour of forming a united front against the Nazi dictatorship and a movement has been started which will make the encirclement of Germany inevitable. Though reluctant to take this step, they have, in view of the greedy ambitions of Hitler, no alternative.

SOVIET RUSSIA and the Balkan states will be invited to subscribe and mutual suspicions which have existed between Great Britain and the U.S.S.R. for the past twenty years are being forgotten in a rally against a common foe of democracy—the Nazi menace. Rumania has been offered commercial aid by the British Government to withstand the German threat, and the stern attitude of the United States in the present crisis would indicate that America is inclined to give at least her moral support in the anti-Hitler campaign.

THOUGH the European situation is fraught with danger, there is no need for people to become jittery. So far as this Colony is concerned, an optimistic outlook may be adopted in spite of the anxiety which exists. The public would do well to go

SALVATION ARMY HOME ANNUAL MEETING

The annual report and review of work carried out during the year 1938 was in part, as follows:— During the year under review, 82 girls and children have been helped in the Home, not including the Juvenile Offenders.

The complete accommodation for inmates, has by careful readjustment been increased from 50 to 58, making it possible to receive 26 beds for the juvenile offenders received from the Police Courts, the remaining accommodation being used for cases received from the Secretary for Chinese Affairs and other sources.

To meet the need for isolation of cases, four of the rooms at the bottom of the garden have been used as an isolation block.

In the main building the accommodation is again divided, the remainder of the juvenile offenders occupying the ground floor.

Whenever a girl is brought in by the Police, an opportunity is always made to have an interview with her before she goes to Court. It often needs much patience and tact to persuade a little heroin pill or opium addict to speak the truth.

The history of some of the girls before they enter the Home, reveal stories of untold mental and physical suffering.

OLDEST INMATE. Although recognised as a Home for Women and Girls, we really have no fixed age limit. It is interesting to note, the oldest inmate admitted last year was 83 years of age—the youngest, a baby just four days old!

The old lady, a Shanghai refugee, had twice been rendered homeless by the Japanese bombing outrages—first in Shanghai and later in Shensi.

Another very pathetic victim of the Japanese air-raids is our little eight-year-old girl, who has to face life sadly handicapped by the loss of both her legs.

Often times it is just the "first lift up" a child needs and although this Home, is not primarily for children, it has certainly enjoyed the privilege of giving that "first lift up" to quite a number of little ones during the past year.

Among others who have found their way to the Home are many who have sought their freedom through the Secretary for Chinese Affairs.

TERRIBLE INDICTMENT. Economic causes the world over drive women and girls into prostitution but that they should drive children of from 12 years upwards into it, is a terrible indictment of conditions in Hongkong. We are faced with the urgent need of a separate Home for these child prostitutes, a Home suitably equipped where the girls who are being rescued from the life of prostitution can be helped back to a normal life.

The girls need helping physically, morally and spiritually and they also need to learn some means by which they can earn a living other than by prostitution.

The V. D. Clinics are doing a splendid work, but if there is no other hope for a girl but to attend the Clinic and carry on the vile business at the same time, the Clinic, as far as she is concerned is a waste of public money.

This Home has done its best to try and solve the problem, but our accommodation and equipment for dealing with the numbers that need our help is wholly inadequate.

PROBLEM OF PREMISES. This year we may be faced with the problem of purchasing premises to carry on the work of this Home when our present lease expires in January, 1940. We are confident the Colony will not fail to come to our help in solving the problem when the time comes.

The help received from the Colonial Government has done much to make the continuance of the work possible. The Home girls, by their industry, have contributed $1,793.61 towards their own support.

After receiving these grants and local industries income there was still left a deficit of about $2,500 to meet which we have relied upon the interest and generosity of our friends in the Colony. The result of the annual appeal for 1938 was a great encouragement to us all.

One final word of heart-felt appreciation to the Chinese workers who have faith in the Home and by their help have done their best to influence the girls.

CHAIRMAN'S SPEECH. Sir Henry Pollock said:—"I consider it a great privilege to take the chair this afternoon and to be associated with the Salvation Army, which has a well-deserved and world-wide reputation for its labours among the desolate and oppressed."

There are said to be approximately 25,000 prostitutes in this Colony, and accordingly the rescue work carried on by the Salvation Army must be a fraction only of the rescue work which might be done if only a Rescue Home were opened. At present these girls have no choice between continuing their present immoral life and starvation.

GOVT. ASSISTANCE NEEDED. Government assistance is also required to provide a Rescue Home in this Colony for girls leading an immoral life. This isolation block, at the end of this Garden, which is the only Rescue Home in this Colony, will hold 13 girls only, but dozens more girls could be rescued if there was only accommodation to receive them.

This small building, with its garden, performs three separate functions. In the first place, on the ground floor, it is a Remand Home for these young girls who have broken the law. Secondly, in the upstairs part, it is a refuge where young girls stay on for months and even years and are taught useful and also beautiful needlework.

And, lastly, there is the isolation block, at the bottom of the garden, where the saddest group of all are housed, young girls, many of them little more than children, who, in many instances, have been forced into an immoral life.

FOURFOLD RESPONSIBILITY

In these cases Major Brazier and her fellow-workers are burdened with a fourfold responsibility: The segregation of these girls and their clothing; The sending of these girls daily under escort for treatment at the V. D. Clinic in the Kowloon Hospital; The protection of these girls from contact with those outside, who forced them into a life of shame and would like to drag them back into it; and teaching these girls that their souls are of value and that they can still be reclaimed to a better way of life.

Girls under 16 who are convicted of offences are styled "juvenile offenders," and, instead of being sent to prison, are sentenced by a Police Magistrate to a period of detention in this Home, and thus escape the stigma of going to gaol and the risk of mixing with hardened offenders.

FIRST REAL HOME. It is impossible to exaggerate the value of their stay in these surroundings. This is the first real home which many of them have ever had. Several of them have been sold when quite young. Few of them have any knowledge of the whereabouts of their own parents.

That the Home is always filled to capacity is conclusive evidence that it is meeting a pressing need. Nobody can have listened unmoved to the report which Major Brazier made regarding the work during 1938, and nobody can fail to recognise and be thankful for the unwavering courage and wholehearted devotion with which she and her fellow-workers have handled the many and difficult problems with which they have been confronted.

And now, as we learn with dismay from Major Brazier, that the Salvation Army is in serious danger of being deprived shortly of these premises because their present lease expires in January next and the owner desires to sell the property. This is a blow indeed. Surely it is unthinkable that this splendid work, which has been carried on in this building for the past four years should come to an end for lack of funds, and I would fain express the hope that the Government will be willing to step in to prevent such a disaster from occurring, especially as the provision of a Remand Home for juvenile girl offenders is strictly part of the duty of the Government.

10,000 GUERRILLAS
NEAR CHEFOO &
WEIHAWEI

CHUNGKING, Mar. 21 (Central).—More than 10,000 Chinese guerrillas are active outside Chefoo and Weihaiwei, on the Shantung Peninsula, according to the latest report from Shantung.

These guerrillas are led by Col. Cheng Wei-ping, formerly police commissioner of Weihaiwei. When the Japanese entered the city on March 7, 1938, Col. Cheng took his handful of 500 policemen into the hills. Soon the little army grew to the neighbourhood of some 10,000 men. Their incessant operations have been responsible for the reduction of the size of the Japanese garrisons in the Shantung Peninsula by 3,000 men.

COMMANDERS REWARDED

CHANGSHA, Mar. 21 (Central).—Over 300 Japanese were killed by Chinese guerrilla forces in northern Hunan Province, along the Canton-Bankow Railway. Many Japanese soldiers were taken prisoner. Col. Liu I-hua and Col. Ho Shih-hung, in command of the guerrillas, were each rewarded $2,000 by Gen. Hsueh Yoh, Commander-in-Chief of troops in Hunan and Kiangsi. The two officers were also commended by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek for their excellent work.

Czech Capitulation Under Threat Of Destructive Aerial Bombing

GERMANY WILL REGRET THE ACTION TAKEN IN CZECHOSLOVAKIA

Lord Halifax's Speech In House Of Lords

LONDON, MAR. 21 (REUTER).—IT IS PROBABLE THAT THE CZECHS WERE PRESENTED WITH AN ULTIMATUM UNDER THE THREAT OF VIOLENCE and that they capitulated in order to save their people from the horrors of a swift and destructive aerial bombardment," declared Lord Halifax, the British Foreign Secretary, in the course of his statement to the House of Lords yesterday on the German occupation of Czechoslovakia.

"Germany and her people, if history is any guide, may regret the action taken in Czechoslovakia," he declared in concluding his speech.

Lord Halifax was cheered when he began his speech by stating: "In the face of the grave issues with which Britain is concerned, party differences seem to disappear."

"It is quite true," he continued, "that recent events have been a profound shock to all thinking people in this country, and far outside of it."

"Surely it is not without significance that two towns were occupied by German S.S. detachments on the evening of March 14 while the President and Foreign Minister of Czechoslovakia were still on their way to Herr Hitler, and before any discussion had taken place."

Dealing with Herr Hitler's proclamation declaring the former Czech territory to be under German protection, Viscount Halifax said: "It should be noted that while the head of the administration now to be set up is said to hold the rank of head of the State, and while the protectorate is said to be autonomous and self-governing, there is to be a resident in Prague with full powers to veto legislation."

BOUND TO GERMANY
"Foreign affairs, and the protection of nationals abroad devolve on the German Government which will maintain military garrisons and establishments in the protectorate. The protectorate is bound to Germany by a customs union, and the German Government can issue decrees and take any measures for the preservation of peace and order."

DELIBERATELY EVOKED
After giving a further narrative of the events, Viscount Halifax declared: "It is difficult to avoid the conclusion that the bulk of the incidents that occurred before the German invasion were deliberately evoked, and their effects greatly magnified."

Lord Halifax continued: "It is not necessary to say much about the assertion that the Czech President freely assented to the subjugation of his people."

"In view of the circumstances in which he went to Berlin, and of the occupation of parts of Czechoslovakia which had already taken place, the most sensible people would conclude that there was little pretence at negotiation."

THREAT OF VIOLENCE
"It is more probable that the Czechs were presented with an ultimatum under the threat of violence, and they capitulated in order to save their people from the horrors of a swift, destructive aerial bombardment."

"In these circumstances, His Majesty's Government thought it fit immediately to take certain action."

After referring to the recall of the British Ambassador to report, Viscount Halifax said: "I think we can claim that we have left the German Government in no doubt as to the attitude of His Majesty's Government, and although I do not cherish any exaggerated hopes of what may be the effect, it was right that protests should have been registered."

MUNICH POLICY

Referring to the Opposition's statement that Mr. Chamberlain's policy at Munich was a personal policy, Viscount Halifax said: "If by that is meant that it was a policy to which the Premier has given every ounce of energy, imagination and resolution he possessed, I should not disagree, but if it is suggested that it was a policy pursued without the fullest co-operation of myself, as Foreign Secretary, and of every member of His Majesty's Government, then I must take leave to oppose this with a most emphatic contradiction (loud Ministerial cheers in which members in the House of Commons gallery joined).

MUNICH SETTLEMENT
There were two purposes to the Munich settlement. First, to effect a settlement as fair as might be in all the extremely difficult circumstances at the time of the problem, which was a real one, and for which treatment was an urgent necessity. If the peace of Europe was to be preserved, I have no doubt whatever that the Government was right in the light of all the information available to take the course it did (Cheers).

"The second purpose was to bring more security for the people of Europe on the basis of freely accepted consultations as a means whereby all future differences might be adjusted. That long-term purpose has been, as we can all observe, disastrously belied by events."

PRINCIPLES OVERTHROWN
Turning to Herr Hitler's actions, Viscount Halifax said: "In his actions, until after Munich, a case could be made that Hitler has been true to his own principles—the exclusion of non-Germans from the Reich, etc.—principles which he has now overthrown. In the inclusion of 8,000,000 Czechs under the German Reich, he surely has not been true to his old philosophy."

Whatever truth there was about the treatment of a quarter of a million Germans, it was impossible to believe that it could only have been remedied by the subjugation of eight million Czechs.

A NEW PHASE?
"Are we to believe that German policy has entered on a new phase directed at the domination of non-German peoples?" asked Lord Halifax. Such grave questions were being asked in all parts of the world.

The German occupation of Czechoslovakia had been furthered by new methods and the world had lately seen more than once a new departure in the field of international technique. Countries were now faced with the encouragement of separatism not only in the interests of the separatist elements, but in the imperial interests of Germany.

INITIATIVE FRUSTRATED
"Shortly after, the Munich measures were taken by Germany which gave a profound shock to world opinion. All initiative towards closer economic collaboration were frustrated by Germany's action last week and it is difficult to say when it can easily be resumed."

"The British Government has not failed to draw a moral from these events and lost no time in placing themselves in close practical consultation with the Dominions and other Governments concerned on issues which were suddenly made so plain. "History records many attempts to impose domination in Europe, but all have terminated in disaster. Germany and her people, if history is any guide, may regret the action taken against Czechoslovakia," he concluded.

Rumania's Vital Trade Talks

"AGREEMENT" REACHED?

Germany To Exploit Oil Wells

BUCHAREST, MARCH 21 (REUTER).—RUMANIA HAS STOOD FIRMLY IN THE vitally important trade negotiations with Germany. This is the chief deduction to be made from the statement issued in official circles that an agreement with the German delegation is expected this week.

It is expected that it will be a completion of the existing Trade Pact concluded last November.

Under the new agreement it is stated that there will be an additional direct exchange of goods. This arises from the fact that Germany is unable to pay in currency. "The direct exchanges" are likely to be chiefly that Germany will take more oil from Rumania, either from her new wells which she will exploit herself, or from the existing sources.

Well-informed circles maintain the attitude that the negotiations have been solely for the welcome purpose of extending the trade between the two friendly countries. Relations with Hungary, it is stressed, continue to be friendly and orders have been given to the troops on the frontiers to avoid all possibility of an incident.

AGREEMENT LIMITED
Another message from Bucharest states that it is learned that a limited trade agreement between Rumania and Germany will almost certainly be signed on Wednesday. The agreement will be principally in the nature of a protocol extending the present agreement. It is stated that the oil, as granted to Germany, will only be a small quantity, having little relation to what was originally demanded.

BOMBS LAND IN MISSION COMPOUND

70 CASUALTIES IN KIANGLIN

CHUNGKING, Mar. 21 (Reuter).—Three bombs landed in the compound of the American Methodist Mission at Kiangling (formerly Chinchow) in Hupeh Province, to the west of Shensi, killing three Chinese, during a Japanese bombing on Sunday afternoon, according to a Chinese despatch from West Hupeh.

The Chinese report adds that eight Japanese planes on Sunday circled above Shensi, but dropped no bombs, and they then turned westward in the direction of Kiangling. It is reported that the Japanese planes dropped two to five bombs in the city, resulting in 70 casualties. No foreign casualties are reported.

ROBINSON ROAD BURGLARY

Articles of a total value of $136 were stolen from No. 21 Robinson Road when the house was entered about 4.30 a.m. yesterday. The missing articles consisted of a gold finger ring set with a small diamond, valued at $120, a pocket watch valued at $13 and a jade, gold-inlaid buckle valued at $3.

Hitler's Next Move In Europe?

MEMEL, MAR. 21 (REUTER).—REPORTS ARE WIDELY CURRENT IN MEMEL THAT GERMANY IS CONTEMPLATING THE PRESENTATION OF FAR-REACHING DEMANDS TO LITHUANIA.

Both sides deny that the demands have been presented, but the following demands are anticipated: Lithuania to hand over to Memel the control of the posts and telegraphs, railways and other communications; and also

The income from harbour dues; Dismissed Memel German State Officials to be reinstated, and their back salaries to be paid; The Lithuanian Garrison and Frontier Police to be withdrawn.

"TIME HAS COME FOR FIRM STAND"

All Parties Support Mr. Chamberlain

LONDON, MARCH 21 (REUTER).—A MARKED CHANGE IN PARLIAMENTARY OPINION HAS OCCURRED OVER THE WEEK-END, MAINLY DUE TO MR. CHAMBERLAIN'S SPEECH IN BIRMINGHAM.

The Opposition's criticism as previously expressed has undergone a change and when the Prime Minister entered the House of Commons yesterday afternoon some of the members of both Oppositions joined in the cheers of his own supporters.

There is a crystallization of the feeling among members of all parties—that the time has come for the country to make a firm stand and it is certain that any action in that direction will have the support of the Opposition, as well as of the Government members.

There are no indications yet of a coalition between the Labour Party and the Government, but there is less disposition among the Opposition to say that Mr. Chamberlain must go.

NO ULTIMATUM TO DR. HACHA
"As far as I am aware, no written ultimatum was presented to Dr. Hacha prior to his acceptance of an agreement with Herr Hitler on Mar. 15," said Mr. Neville Chamberlain, during question time in the House.

"Sir Neville Henderson, the British Ambassador in Germany, was instructed on Mar. 17 to inform the German Government that the British desired to make it plain that they would not regard the events of the past few days as a complete repudiation of the Munich agreement and a denial of the spirit in which the negotiators had bound themselves to co-operate for a peaceful settlement."

"Sir Neville Henderson was also instructed to say that Britain must take that occasion to protest against the changes effected in Czechoslovakia by German military action, which, they are of the opinion, were devoid of any basis of legality."

HITLER'S THREAT
The Prime Minister replied affirmatively to an enquiry whether he had seen a press statement that Herr Hitler had threatened to bomb Prague unless Dr. Hacha accepted his demands. The whole situation in connection with the annexation of Czechoslovakia, he declared, was at present under review by the British Government.

NATIONAL DEFENCE
"In view of Germany's acquisition of the war material and munition factories in Czechoslovakia, does the Prime Minister intend to propose a revision of the National Defence Programme?" asked Mr. W. Wedgwood Benn (Labour).

The Prime Minister replied that the statement he had made on Mar. 17 that "every aspect of national life must now be reviewed in the light of our national safety," of course, covered the National Defence Programme.

Miss Ellen Wilkinson (Labour) asked if that included any representation to the Iron and Steel Federation of Great Britain that pig iron and scrap should not be sold to Germany as had been sold in the last war?

The Prime Minister replied: That might be called an aspect of national life.

Finance Committee To Consider Supplementary Votes Totalling $414,145

Supplementary votes totalling $414,145 will be considered at a meeting of the Finance Committee to-morrow after the Legislative Council meeting.

Memoranda explaining the items are as follows:—
ESTIMATES, 1939
Volunteer Defence Corps.—Ammunition $5,378.

This amount is required for small arms ammunition ordered in 1938 and not yet paid for.

Harbour Department.—Diaphone for Waglan $3,100.

A revote of $3,100 is required to meet the cost of alterations to a building at Waglan necessary for the installation of the Diaphone, for which no provision has been made in the 1939 Estimates.

Legal Expenses $8,000.

The Crown Agents' account for January, 1939, contains an item of $8,852 in respect of professional services in connexion with the appeal to the Privy Council of Chung Chi-cheung against sentence of death passed upon him in Hongkong.

POLICE FORCE
Emergency Expenses arising from the Sino-Japanese Conflict $80,000.

The $25,000 provided has proved insufficient and a further sum of $55,000 is required to meet payment of military and interned soldiers accounts.

Royal Observatory.—Special Expenditure: Aerological Investigation (Hongkong) $15,000.

It is desired to provide for a daily meteorological flight by one of the machines of the Far East Aviation Co., Ltd. This knowledge is essential to aviators, and of great assistance in making a general weather forecast.

Stores Department.—Purchase of Sand $140,000.

Owing to a substantial increase in the demand for sand and to the decision that larger reserve stocks should be held, besides an increase in the cost of collecting and conveying sand from beaches, the sum of $100,000 provided under this Sub-head will be insufficient, and a further sum of $140,000 will be required for 1939.

The selling price of sand has been increased and the sum now asked for will be offset by additional revenue collected under the Revenue Head "Fees of Court or Office—(D) Sales—Sand."

PUBLIC WORKS EXTRAORDINARY
General Works: Drainage:—(b) Miscellaneous $25,000.

The factory reservation at Lal Chi Kok has been fully allocated. Further applications for adjoining sites have been received, and it is proposed to extend the reserved area by diverting an open nullah at an estimated cost of $25,000. An adequate return on this outlay would be assured to Government in Crown rents from the new sites which will become available.

Communications: 28, Argyle Street, Eastern end, of $45,285.

Building sites in the new area have already been sold and in view of the existing demand for further sites, it is considered essential to hasten progress on this extension.

Extension of Tarmac around Hangar, Kai Tak Aerodrome $8,500.

The tarmac area to the north of the hangar at Kai Tak is too small to meet the requirements of the larger machines and greater amount of air traffic at the Airport.

Conversion of Nursing Sisters Quarters, G.C.H. to a Mental Hospital $34,500.

The increasing number of patients received in the Hongkong Mental Hospital, has rendered

CHINA CURRENCY BILL DEBATE IN COMMONS

LONDON, MARCH 20 (REUTER).—MOVING THE SECOND READING OF THE CHINESE CURRENCY BILL IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS TO-DAY, SIR JOHN SIMON, CHANCELLOR OF THE EXCHEQUER, DECLARED THAT WHILE THE TOTAL BRITISH TRADE WITH CHINA WAS NOT A LARGE PERCENTAGE OF TOTAL WORLD TRADE, IT WAS WELL WORTH PRESERVING AND ASSISTING, ESPECIALLY BECAUSE CHINA HAS AN IMMENSE POPULATION, AND A SMALL INCREASE IN PURCHASES PER HEAD MAKE AN ENORMOUS DIFFERENCE.

The outbreak of hostilities was a severe test of the currency system adopted in 1935. The Chinese adopted very well devised technical measures, and Chinese abroad had supported their currency with remittances and subscriptions to the war loans.

Last year's currency had been carried through in orderly manner with the minimum of disturbance or undermining of confidence. "If the House supports this Bill, they can be assured of the reputation and tradition of the Chinese in this matter," he said.

Mr. Fethick Lawrence (Lab.) supported the Bill because it provided an incentive to British trade, and particularly because it gave China definite support in the struggle against Japan.

MUCH MORE WANTED
Mr. G. le M. Mander (Liberal) also supported the measure, but regretted that the Government was approaching the matter in a far too narrow spirit.

Mr. Mander added that the Government was actually carrying out one of the League's resolutions.

Mr. J. J. Tinker (Lab.) in seconding the amendment, declared: "What we are now doing is the result of our not making a stand when Japan invaded China."

Major J. J. Astor (Cons.) hoped that the amendment would not be pressed. He said that nothing would hearten the Chinese Government and people more than that the House should pass the Bill unanimously.

Mr. F. J. Bellenger (Lab.) said if the purpose of the Bill was to foster Sino-British trade he would support it.

Sir John Simon intervened to give an assurance that was the purpose of the measure.

AN INQUIRY
Mr. Bellenger asked whether the fund would be operated in co-operation with the United States and France, similarly to the tripartite agreement.

Sir John Simon replied that in different forms efforts to assist the financial situation in China, had been made by other governments.

Captain Euan Wallace replying the debate, said that the Opposition speakers had admitted the sum of £10,000,000 to be very effective for the purpose. It also had been recognised in the debate that the Chinese currency was not at present tottering. It had been stable for some time, and was very well supported from inside.

Captain Wallace stated that the place for the operation of the fund would be Hongkong, and that £10,000,000 would be subscribed immediately.

As far as this money was concerned, before it was required for the purchase of silver dollars, it would be invested in sterling here, and the interest on it made available to help the Chinese banks pay the interest due to the British banks. The interest of 2½ per cent was agreed for the present.

No division was taken and the Bill was given a second reading, while the accompanying money resolution was agreed to without discussion.

necessary an immediate extension to the existing premises.

It is proposed to meet this need by converting the former Nursing Sisters' Quarters at the old Government Civil Hospital.

Naval Arsenal Yard and Kellets Island $40,852.

The final payment in respect of the transfer to Government of the Naval Arsenal Yard has now become due, and, as provision for this payment was not included in the current Estimates, a supplementary vote for $40,851.06 is accordingly requested.

Total $414,145.

HEROIN CASES AT SESSIONS

Heavy Sentences Imposed

WOMEN IN DOCK

Three women, Wu Ngan, Kwong Lat-ken and Tang Ying, were charged at the Criminal Sessions yesterday before the Chief Justice, Sir Atholl MacGregor, with unlawful possession of dangerous drugs, and pleaded not guilty. The jury empanelled comprised Messrs. W. A. Zimmerman (Foreman) J. T. Choy, E. B. Hanson, R. F. de la Sala Tsang Chiu-yuen and N. W. Smeby.

Mr. J. B. Prentiss, Assistant Crown Solicitor, said that the case was a sequel to a raid made by Revenue Officers on the night of January 29 on No. 242 Tai Nam Street, Sham-shuipo, first floor. At the rear of the premises, they found a room the door of which was closed and which on being entered, was found to be used as a heroin pill factory. Without retiring, the jury found all three women guilty, and His Lordship, stressing his determination to impose heavy punishment for such offences, passed sentence of three years' hard labour on each accused.

ANOTHER CASE

Before Mr. Justice Lindsell, Leung Ping and Li Chi-kuang were charged with possession of 108,555 heroin pills at No. 121 Fa Yuen Street on February 10, and Leung Chung was charged with possession of 53,000 heroin pills on the same date and at the same place. First defendant pleaded guilty.

Mr. M. J. Abbott, Assistant Crown Solicitor, prosecuted, and the Hon. Mr. Leo D'Almeida e Castro Jr., instructed by Mr. D. McCallum, appeared for Leung Chung.

Mr. Abbott stated that Revenue Officer Ahern with Chinese Revenue officers raided the premises on information on the morning of February 10.

Second and third defendants were found guilty, and all three were sentenced to two and a half years' hard labour.

CHINESE GUERRILLA ACTIVITIES

CHANGSHA, Mar. 21 (Central).—Interviewed by a Central News war correspondent, a commander of Chinese guerrillas in the Hunan-Hupeh-Kiangsi border regions declared to-day that the Chinese farmers in the war areas, embittered by the Japanese invasion, are actively assisting the Chinese regular and guerrilla troops in fighting against the invaders.

Chinese guerrilla activities, he affirmed, are giving increasing worry to the Japanese who have suffered enormous losses of lives and military supplies.

MILITARY TRAIN WRECKED

CHENGCHOW, Mar. 21 (Int'l).—A Japanese military train consisting of 13 coaches, with soldiers was destroyed by Chinese guerrillas on March 18 at Chinghsan on the Taokow-Tsinghsan Railway in northern Hunan, resulting in several hundred Japanese soldiers being killed and wounded.

Seeing that the train had jumped off the tracks the guerrillas who were hiding on both sides of the railway embankment showered hand grenades on the panic-stricken Japanese soldiers.

ROTARY TIFFIN SPEECH

such as insolence and bad manners, to the sacrifice of this most sacred of all the national possessions, and so, when Anthony Eden echoed the same thought in his stirring address in New York, he endeared himself to everyone in the United States.

The scene and the speech were reproduced again and again in all the cinemas of the country. I saw and heard it four times and on each occasion, the applause was very loud when the phrase that the state is made for man, and not man for the state, sounded.

EDUCATIONAL INFLUENCE

My interest in the United States, however, was primarily educational, and not political, because it is that country which has exerted the most profound influence on the cultural life of China since the Revolution in China. It is only necessary to travel in China to see how deep and widespread this educational influence is. In Peking we have the Tsing Hua and Yenching University and the Peking Union Medical College. In Nanking we have Nanking University for men, and Ginling for women. In Changsha we have Yale in China. In Shanghai are St. John's University, and Shanghai University while in Canton we have Lingnam.

All these institutions owe their foundation to the initiative and generosity of the United States. In addition to this, many of those who teach and lecture in the national universities of China have sat at the feet of Professors in the United States. There are several reasons for this state of affairs, but one of the chief is the strong bond of sympathy between the young Republic and the old, the sympathy with Young China in its revolt against the crusted conservatism of old China, which is paralleled in the United States in its revolt against the political, feudal, and religious tradition of Europe.

The United States is attached by sentiment and is interested in England from a romantic point of view, but in her social life she has departed considerably from the old model.

Apart, however, from such sentimental interests and from visits to the Scott and Shakespeare country, the Law Courts and London's places of interest, America is not much concerned about European traditions, especially when they hamper material progress.

DERIVED FROM U.S.

There is no doubt that the enthusiasm for the expansion of educational work in China, has been derived from the United States, where education is a really serious matter. No other nation in the world has the grandiose conception of education as a force for good in public life that one finds in the States. It is something new in civilization.

At the same time, I realise that for the mind of Young China to be conditioned in an environment so free from external threat—seeing that there are, four thousand miles of ocean on one side, and three thousand on the other—is not the best preparation for the task of building up and safeguarding the Chinese nation. It means too great an emphasis on civic centres and too little emphasis on providing the defence of them.

LAND OF SUCCESS

There is also another aspect of the question. America is undoubtedly a land of successful people. It has been a long, arduous, uphill struggle since 1620, when those dour and determined settlers landed and braved the dangers of the unknown land. Religious oppression, political intolerance, and economic pressure have been finally overcome, and the land rejoices in its victory.

It is thankful that the struggle is over, the battles fought and the aims achieved. What a better method of celebrating such success could there be, than the ample and generous conditions for youth that their fathers never had with scope and freedom to experiment beyond anything known in the past? Nothing is too good for the youth of the nation.

AND YOUTH

The United States is pre-eminently the land of youth, and all that youth stands for, courage, optimism, vigour, confidence, and experiment. It is the land of the pioneer who seeks to dominate his environment by cutting down the forest, constructing the road, sinking the well, building the bridge, tilling the soil, and harvesting the crop.

Progress is now governed by the extent and availability of the new scientific knowledge for which every industrial and commercial organisation waits breathlessly at the doors of the research departments of the universities. If further proof were necessary that a good education is a good investment, it is found in the American "Who's Who." Of the 29,889 names of distinguished people recorded there, 75% are graduates of a university while another 10% have attended a college, though without graduating. As Professor Hilton of Cambridge says, such an education provides access to the front seats in the stalls of life.

ROAD TO SUCCESS

Since statistics are the only evidence the American will accept in social questions it is convincing proof for him that the road to success lies through the school and college doors. There are to-day, over a million students in the universities and colleges of the United States, more students than there were in the high schools twenty years ago.

In England we have about 40,000 in the universities, with a few thousand in technical colleges, and our population is about one-third that of the United States.

In six states of America, there is free and compulsory education up to the age of eighteen, and they are actually contemplating the extension of that up to the age of twenty-one. A Commission financed by the Carnegie Foundation, is studying the problem of occupational education in America.

STANDARD OF LIFE

Education, then, seems to be accepted as the one method by which the standard of life can be raised, not only in the crude, material sense, but also in regard to quality. It is believed that, given the right form of education, the individual can be made sensitive to beauty, to appreciate moral values, and become intolerant of an environment that is ugly, depressing and vicious. Whether their faith is justified or not, it is certain that they are depending on it as an agency in social improvement to far greater extent than upon any other factor, for education in the United States is, in its magnitude, complexity and diversity unparalleled in Western countries. This education, moreover, is closely related to the practical life of the nation. It is not something remote and detached. Such monuments as the Boulder Dam, New York's skyline, and that splendid bridge over San Francisco Bay over which it is a pleasure to ride in a car, and a greater pleasure to admire from the water so graceful, stately, and grand are the enormous concrete arches and steel curves, these pay tribute to the alliance of Education and Life.

In conclusion, I would like to mention how grateful I am for the hospitality and generosity that I met with in travelling through the States, and also my indebtedness to the Carnegie Institute for providing the means of doing so. (Applause).

SPEAKER THANKED

Called upon to thank the speaker, Mr. E. A. Kinsey made a few comments on his remarks in re University-trained men, and stated that his own experience was different. He had found that University men were not wanted. What was wanted were youths of 17 and 18 who could be trained in the methods that the employer believed in.

WASTE IN INDUSTRY

Mr. Trollip On Need For Replanting

The nineteenth session of the Mechanical Engineers' Association of India was opened in Bombay by Mr. A. S. Trollip, General Secretary of the Society of Engineers of India. About a hundred and fifty delegates from different provinces attended the session.

Important suggestions to minimize waste in industry and increase production were made by Mr. A. S. Trollip in his presidential address.

Mr. Trollip said: "Many people are under the impression that India is to fall in line with other industrial nations she must build huge factories and install new and up-to-date machinery in other words, India must speed up her production. There is only a fraction of truth in this statement, for an increased output can result either from quicker production or from the use of waste."

"Good organisation is the key to success in any business, and no organisation can be called good which permits of waste in any of its departments or activities."

Dealing with waste through accident and sickness, Mr. Trollip pointed out that every accident was a symptom of inefficiency, and the only way to prevent accidents was to institute foreman training and job training and the institution of a Safety Inspector and Safety Committee.

Concluding, Mr. Trollip said: "When this Conference is over and you go back to your respective organisations, I appeal to you to go back determined to follow a master plan, if you have one, or to formulate one if you have not one already. Only the co-ordinated effort of all sections that form any trade or industry, working towards one purpose and common goal, can help India take her place in the industrial world."

COLONY TRADE DECREASE

Decline By 8.3 Per Cent. In February

The Imports and Exports Department (Statistical Branch) reports that the combined values of imports and exports of merchandise, (excluding treasure) as declared during the month of February, 1939, totalled $77.5 millions ($45 millions) as compared with $79.9 millions ($47.1 millions) in February, 1938.

In terms of local currency, the total visible trade of the Colony, (excluding treasure) decreased by 8.3 per cent. in February, 1939, as compared with February, 1938, and by 8.2 per cent. in terms of sterling.

Imports of merchandise in February, 1939, totalled $45.8 millions ($23.3 millions) as compared with $41.4 millions ($20.6 millions) in February, 1938, and exports $36.5 millions ($23.3 millions) as compared with $38.5 millions ($24.4 millions).

Imports of merchandise in February, 1939, decreased by 11.1 per cent. in terms of local currency, and by 11.5 per cent. in terms of sterling. Exports of merchandise in February, 1939, decreased by 5.2 per cent. in terms of local currency, and by 4.2 per cent. in terms of sterling.

During the first two months of 1939 imports of merchandise totalled $77.5 millions ($45.8 millions) as compared with $79.9 millions ($47.1 millions) in the corresponding period of 1938: exports $76.7 millions ($47.7 millions) as compared with $78.8 millions ($48.8 millions).

Imports of merchandise increased by 24.8 per cent. in terms of local currency, and by 25.1 per cent. in terms of sterling. Exports decreased by 1.4 per cent. in terms of local currency, and by 1.5 per cent. in terms of sterling.

TAKU HARBOUR TO BE EXPLOITED

Plans for the construction of the largest commercial harbour in North China at Taku, at the mouth of the Peiho River near Tientsin, were launched recently by the projected establishment of Sino-Japanese concern, capitalised at Y100,000,000, according to "Asahi Shimbun" chain of papers.

A party of 30 experts from the Japanese Home Office are for Tientsin early next month to make surveys required for construction of the harbour.

TRAM COMPANY DIVIDEND

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Shanghai Tramway Construction Company held last week it was decided to recommend payment of a dividend at the rate of 8 per cent. for the year 1938. At the next annual general meeting of shareholders to be held in Shanghai on April 25.

DAIREN WHARVES TO BE EXPANDED

Port Facilities Too Inadequate

Such huge quantities of goods are now piled up at the Dairen wharves that the South Manchuria Railway Company is planning to extend present accommodation by at least 50 per cent. This will be carried out under a seven or eight year plan.

The cost for this will be approximately Y80,000,000 to start from the next railway fiscal year, beginning on April 1. An appropriation of Y9,000,000 is included in next year's budget to allow for the first year of expansion, says the "North China Daily News."

The current congestion is being caused by the vast increase in imports, largely of heavy industrial goods which are coming in for the execution of the five-year industrial plan for "Manchoukuo," as present accommodation as to godowns is entirely unable to cope with demand, Dairen being essentially an export harbour. A minor form of chaos reigns as to the stacking of goods which cannot be laid away indoors but some form of order is now being obtained.

A considerable shortage in rolling stock is also to some extent responsible for the piles of goods at the Dairen wharves. An order has been placed for 1,700 freight cars and locomotives costing about Y45,000,000. These should be delivered by October next. About 2,000 flat cars were bought last year but proved completely insufficient to deal with the quantity of goods arriving at this port.

TUGS AND LIGHTERS BEING BUILT

Again there is a dearth of berthing facilities here. Recently a fourth pier was constructed and for the time being nothing further along this line can be done. Therefore, starting with this year on an expenditure of Y1,400,000 additional tug and lighters are to be obtained to load and unload vessels lying offshore.

This plan includes a 250-ton tug with ice-breaking equipment, three lighters of 60 tons each, one new 100-ton tugboat and one second-hand tugboat. When these small crafts arrive, the port will have 184 lighters and 23 tugboats.

One scheme further is being considered which is to increase ship accommodation at Kansai, across Dairen Bay, where all coal loading is done to modern equipment. This will have, however, to wait until the shoreline has been largely improved.

To ease the burden on Dairen in connection with the five-year industrial plan for "Manchoukuo" it is believed that the Changchun government will arrange for the development of the three Korean ports, Rashin, Seishan, and Yuki, the work to be passed over to the S.M.R.

The revised plan calls for a tremendous rise in the export of coal to Japan and at the present these three ports, from which Manchou coal is shipped, are not able to deal with more than 800,000 tons annually, whereas the plan calls for the export of 1,500,000 tons by 1941.

As the coal requirements for "Manchoukuo" by that time cannot be estimated adequately, there is some hesitation as to setting this scheme going.

NEW SHIPPING COMPANY

Meantime the plan for forming the Manchuria Shipping Company is being carefully studied. This is for forming a mercantile fleet aggregating 50,000 tons to be capitalised at 2,000,000 yuan. Those to invest in this corporation would be the Changchun Government, Dairen, Kisen Kaisha, South Manchuria Railway Company, Yamashita Kisen Kaisha, the Mitsui's and the Mitsubishi's.

In the meanwhile various snags are visualized as to the creation of this company. Unless the Japanese Government wishes this, it will be impossible of materialization. Consent from the German Government would be necessary as the Third Reich is, next to Japan, doing more business with "Manchoukuo" than any other country. A "Manchoukuo" merchant ship would run into many difficulties in ports of countries which have not yet recognized its government.

To return to congestion in this port the need for expansion of accommodation can easily be gathered from the fact that last month there were about half a million tons of goods at the wharves, either in godowns or in open storage, mainly the latter.

H. K. STOCK EXCHANGE

ANGLO-INDIAN TRADE

New Agreement Signed

LONDON, Mar. 21 (Reuter).—Lancashire cotton industry benefits by the provisions of the Trade Agreement signed between Britain and India yesterday. The agreement will remain in force for three years.

In order to compensate for some of the preferences on British goods, which have now been discontinued, India undertakes to reduce the duties on British cotton goods in the first year from 20 per cent. to 15 per cent., ad valorem, with corresponding reductions on printed goods. Duties in the subsequent years will depend on the volume of exports of such goods to India and the amount of Indian raw cotton taken by the United Kingdom.

Preferences enjoyed in the British markets by India under the Ottawa Agreement (when the new agreement superseded) are, with a few exceptions, continued.

Each party agrees to extend to the other tariff preferences accorded now, or in the future, to any Dominion or South Rhodesia.

As regards the Colonial Empire the provisions of the Ottawa Agreement are generally retained.

HIGHWAY CONSTRUCTION SPEEDED UP

SHANGHAI, Mar. 20 (Int'l).—Apparently looking forward to the arrival of tons of new munitions shipments to supply the Chinese armies in interior China, British authorities are speeding construction work on the high-ways leading to the Burma-Yunnan border. Dr. Robert McClure, of Toronto, an executive of the International Red Cross, told a foreign correspondent at Chungking.

Dr. McClure, who has arrived at the provisional Chinese capital after a tour of England and the United States revealed that the North Burma Railway which runs from Mandalay to Myitkyna, a distance of 500 miles, is being specially ballasted to handle the transportation of heavy explosives.

Meanwhile, highways and bridges are being strengthened for heavier loads. He added that 500 British Thornycroft trucks, besides 1,000 Chevrolet and Dodge trucks, will arrive at the southern terminus of the Mandalay-Lashio highway during the launching April to permit the launching of steady heavy traffic to the Yunnan border. British authorities, he remarked, are providing more facilities to China than was originally promised.

NEW HIMALAYAN LILY

Capt. Kingdon Ward, the Himalayan plant hunter, has made a discovery which he believes will astonish the experts. For 20 years these have said that there were no unknown lilies in South-East Asia.

On the six-month journey he has just completed in the Eastern Himalayas Capt. Kingdon Ward has discovered this conclusion.

In a letter he says that he has discovered a brand new species of lily—a beautiful plant with magnificent trumpet flowers, yellow, four inches long and four across.

His discovery includes over 20 species of rhododendrons and two dozen new primulas.

SIR ERIC MIEVILLE WILL CONTROL AUSTRALIAN STAFF

The King has approved the appointment of Sir Eric Mievill to be attached temporarily as head of the Household of the Governor-General-designate, the Duke of Kent, in Australia.

His Majesty has also approved of Sir Eric Mievill acting as Principal Secretary to the Duke from the time of his departure from England.

Sir Eric Mievill has been Assistant Private Secretary to the King since 1937 following a diplomatic career and service in Canada and India with a Governor-General and Viceroy, and as private secretary to the King when he was Duke of York.

In Sir Eric Mievill the Duke of Kent has chosen a perfect courtier as head of his Australian Household, says the special representative of the "Sun."

In effect he will fulfil the same duties with the Duke of Kent as Lord Wigram does as Permanent Lord-in-Waiting to the King.

Sir Eric Mievill greeted me at Buckingham Palace immediately after his regular morning consultation with the King, saying, "Of course, I am delighted to be going to Australia."

He added laughingly, "Although I will be head of the Household, thank God the household arrangements are not my job."

REAL POWER

Sir Eric Mievill, as chief of the staff, will be primarily the Duke of Kent's personal adviser and will be the real power behind the scenes.

His present position brings him in touch with a wide community, and there is probably no more tactful or more approachable personage in Court circles.

It will be found that Sir Eric Mievill is as well acquainted with the turf as any Australian.

"I confess," he said, "that I sneak to as many race meetings as I can."

He is familiar with Phar Lap's and Ajax's records as he is with Bradman's.

He is a keen tennis player, and frequently plays on the Royal courts with the King. His golf handicap is eight and he is also a useful cricketer.

(Dark, with high forehead, sunburnt complexion and small moustache, Sir Eric Mievill has an easy smile, a keen sense of humour and a good-humoured manner. He is 43.

Lady Mievill, before her marriage, was Miss Dorothy Haslock, of Cobham, Surrey. There are no children.)

SILENT ARCTIC

Death Of Young Scientist

WINNIPEG.—Tragic death of Reynold Bray, young English explorer, has not halted the work of the British Canadian Arctic Expedition, whose members, under the leadership of T. H. Manning, are carrying on explorations along the bleak coast of Baffin Island, more than 200 miles within the Arctic Circle.

Bray, 28-year-old ornithologist, on his second trip into the Arctic, was blown to sea in a folding boat and disappeared 200 miles north of Repulse Bay, North West Territories, Sept. 14 last. News of his death reached civilization three months later.

Patrick Baird, another member of the expedition, after a hazardous trip to Repulse Bay, Arctic trading post, wireless word of the tragedy to the outside world, late in December. He said:

"Bray and I were alone at the time he was carried out to sea. I had stayed on shore. When I saw his predicament, I attempted to go to his rescue in a whaleboat, but was too late. He was swept out to sea and vanished."

JOINED PARTY

Bray and Baird passed through Winnipeg last July and travelled by rail to Churchill, where they boarded the Catholic Mission ship Marie Therese, to go to Igloodik, 2,000 miles north of here. Their vessel encountered heavy ice and the explorers unloaded their supplies on an island and set off northward. A short time later Bray was swept to sea.

An Arctic bride, Ella Manning, a Nova Scotia girl and wife of the leader of expedition, spent her honeymoon on the ice-bound Baffin Island, inside the Arctic circle. Married at Cape Dorset, tiny Northern settlement on Hudson Bay, Mrs. Manning is aiding in exploration of the island.

INDIVIDUAL BRITONS ARE RICHER

U. K. STATISTICAL FIGURES

Individual Britons are to-day richer and live to enjoy their wealth longer than ever before. This fact was revealed in the Statistical Abstract for the United Kingdom for the year 1913 and the years 1924 to 1937.

Of a population of 47,000,000 there were 95,750 persons with incomes exceeding £2,000 a year. This is a higher figure than in 1924, although fewer people had more than a yearly income of £100,000. In 1924 there were 133 persons with incomes over the £100,000 figure; in 1937 only 80.

PEAK YEAR

Peak year for high incomes in Britain was 1929-30, when 108,891 persons had over £2,000 a year. Then 141 persons had £100,000 a year. The British Post Office Savings Banks, Trustee Savings Banks, life assurance companies and trade unions all reached peak figures in 1937.

In England and Wales a new-born baby in 1931, the latest year for which figures are available, according to the Statistical Abstract, might expect to live 58.7 years if a boy, 62.9 years if a girl.

Women of all ages have a greater expectation of life in Britain than men. In 1871 a new-born boy could only expect 46.4 years of life, a girl 43.5. In 1871, 156 babies died for every 1,000 born. In 1931 the figure of deaths per 1,000 was only 56.

JAPANESE INTRIGUE

Startling Report Of Plans With Italy And Germany

SHIUKWAN, March 20 (Int'l).—Indicating permanent occupation of Hainan Island, the Japanese military there are stated to have engaged several German engineers and military experts to map out the industrial and defensive plans of the Islands, according to an intelligence report received here.

These military advisers recently left Hongkong for Hainan, principal port in Hainan Island, to take up their work. Some German and Italian arms and new warplanes are also reported to have landed at Hainan to strengthen the position of the Japanese there. This seems to confirm the rumour that the anti-Comintern pact is something more than a combination against Communism, in the opinion of well informed circles here.

Another startling report was received from Chungking in the same quarters concerning Japanese intrigue in connection with the Japanese occupation of Hainan. This report said that Germany, Italy and Japan had reached an agreement to strike at France and Britain in Europe and the Far East. Gen. Francisco Franco was given a large consignment of arms and bombs to be used in a sudden attack on France, while the German and Italian fleets in the Mediterranean are to harass the British navy in order to prevent their departure for the Far East.

Japan's part, after the seizure of Hainan Island, is to use it as a base to attack British and French colonial possessions and leased territories in South China, such as Hongkong, Kwangchowwan and Indo-China. Hence Japan went ahead and took Hainan, but her Axis allies failed to carry out the plan.

This was due to a sudden change of mind of the part of Gen. Franco. This plot was foiled by a smart British move, as Premier Chamberlain is said to have convinced Gen. Franco that British financial assistance is more valuable than conspiracy against British interest in Europe and the Far East. Hence the flare-up was nipped in the bud to the perplexity of the Axis Powers.

Presumably this report came from Chinese diplomatic quarters abroad. This intelligence message is commented upon here owing to its far-reaching effect in South China, although confirmation is difficult.

The full in Europe during mid-March, particularly in Rome and Berlin, lends colour to the belief that the Japanese intrigue might not be without foundation.

WORLD'S WORST DRUG COMES TO LONDON

Marihuana Peddled Around Soho

Marihuana, the world's worst-known drug—large quantities of which were seized by U.S. G-men in week-end raids on Manhattan restaurants has already made its appearance in Soho.

Now the most difficult problem with which the American police have to contend, this roadside weed is now being peddled by foreigners round about the back of Shaftesbury-avenue.

They sell it in the form of cigarettes, for which they charge 1s. each. Scotland Yard have many arrests of addicts.

VICIOUS

Marihuana is the most vicious, soul-destroying narcotic known. Unlike opium, heroin and other derivatives, which require special equipment for refining, marihuana—which is plain everyday hemp—grows everywhere. It can even be cultivated in a window-box.

As soon as it is dried it is ready to work its havoc, destroying all restraint and moral inhibitions. Its use is the quickest and surest way to insanity.

Smokers lose all sense of time; a second becomes a minute, a minute becomes an hour.

TIME EXPANDED

That is why some jazz musicians use the drug. With time so expanded they say that they can work out more intricate choruses, at apparent leisure, while really playing at top speed!

The underworld has been quick to adopt this potent drug since others have been made difficult to obtain.

Police say that just before undertaking a crime, many criminals now smoke a few marihuana cigarettes to build up the courage they need.

and in 1937 it was down to 58. Expectations of life at all ages is longer in England and Wales than in Scotland.

Old China Resident Passes Away

MISS MARY JANE IRVINE

Miss Mary Jane Irvine, a resident of China for the past 40 years, passed away at the Country Hospital, Shanghai, a few days ago. The deceased was born in 1853 near Kingston, Ontario, Canada, where her parents of Irish extraction resided.

Under the inspiration of D. L. Moody, a new vision came into her life, of the need of giving others the way to Salvation. Miss Irvine went in, for Christian service at a school under the auspices of the Woman's Branch of the New York City Mission.

After five years of devoted service as Pastor's assistant and tenement-house visiting there, she offered herself as a candidate to the Woman's Union Missionary Society of America which at the time was seeking an Evangelist to do follow-up work in connection with the Margaret Williamson Hospital, which was being so ably conducted by Dr. Elizabeth Reimsnyder. In this capacity, Miss Irvine served for 48 years, of which 40 were spent in China.

Until the outbreak of hostilities in Shanghai in 1937 she was connected with the Brigman School in Nantao, but since then had taken up residence in the French Concession, where to the last, she continued her work for the salvation of souls with untiring devotion and enthusiasm.

When, in view of the poor state of her health, she was recently asked to retire, the deceased answered: "I must do the work for which I came to China."

That the Japanese intrigue might not be without foundation.

The fact is also noteworthy, according to the reports, that 80 per cent of the war materials landed and carried from Haiphong to the Chinese forces in the hinterland are by overland routes, while only 20 per cent, is by waterway.

The war materials recently landed at Haiphong are reported to be about 280 motor trucks, of which about 60 are said to have been already sent to the Chinese forces, while the rest includes rails and large quantities of petrol, it is also reported.

The arms and munitions which arrived at Haiphong on Feb. 17 were re-packed by two canal boats, the reports add.

The United Farmers of Alberta, who, as a political party, formed the provincial government from 1921 to 1936, when they were defeated by the Social credit organization, has decided to cease all political activity in the future.
